Dec 13 - Haynes Foundation

Up to 8 faculty fellowships of $12,000 each are awarded yearly to regular, full-time faculty members in the social sciences at any college or university in the five county Southern California region (Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura, San Bernardino, and Riverside) on the topic of policy/history of LA/Southern California region.

The awards may be used as a faculty summer research stipend, to buy course relief or to cover other incidental research assistance and expenses (excluding equipment and hardware) which might be incurred throughout the year, or in some combination. (The awards may not be used to augment salary during the regular academic year except as an addition to sabbatical leave compensation.) Fellowships may be used as seed money to begin a research project, or as full or partial support for an ongoing project.

Jan 9 - Russell Sage Foundation

The foundation's program on Social Inequality supports research on the social, economic, political, and labor market consequences of rising economic inequalities in the United States. Two-year grants of up to $150,000.

Topics that are of interest include but are not limited to:

- ⇒ economic well-being
- ⇒ equality of opportunity
- ⇒ intergenerational mobility
- ⇒ the political process and the resulting policies
- ⇒ psychological and/or cultural change
- ⇒ education labor markets
- ⇒ child development and child outcomes
- ⇒ neighborhoods and communities

Jan 15 - Stamps School of Design

The Stamps School of Art and Design at the University of Michigan is accepting applications for its Roman J. Witt Residency Program. Supports the production of new artistic work by a visiting artist/designer through a one-year residency that allows the artists to work at the school and collaborate with students and faculty. Residents receive an honorarium of $20,000 for up to 12 weeks in residence served over an academic year, with housing, studio space, and up to $5,000 in funding support for project materials. The residency is expected to culminate in the realization of the proposed work, as well as a presentation that summarizes the process and work accomplished. Ideal candidates will value collaboration, have good social and communication skills, and be interested in

Feb 10 - Camille Dreyfus Teacher-Scholar Awards Program

The New York City-based Camille & Henry Dreyfus Foundation is accepting nominations from academic institutions for its Henry Dreyfus Teacher-Scholar Awards Program.

The annual program supports the research and teaching careers of talented young faculty in the chemical sciences at undergraduate institutions. Based on institutional nominations, the program provides discretionary funding to faculty at an early stage in their careers. The award is based on accomplishment in scholarly research with undergraduates as well as a compelling commitment to teaching, and provides an unrestricted research grant of $75,000.

Nominees must hold a full-time tenure-track academic appointment; be beyond the fourth and not after the twelfth year of their independent academic careers; and be engaged in research and teaching primarily with undergraduates.
